

S2-S3 Speech Topic

A Day Without A Smartphone

Imagine waking up to complete silence—no buzzing notifications, no endless social feeds, no digital screen filtering your world. For most of us, spending a full day without a smartphone feels like an impossible challenge. We reach into our pockets out of pure reflex, constantly chasing quick updates and staying perpetually connected. But what may happen when the screen goes dark?