Long ago, an old father lived with his young son. The son had problems every day.

One day, the son said, "Father, you always fix my mistakes." The father looked at his son. "Yes. But I am old. Look at me. I have gray hair. I will not help you forever." The son began to cry. But the father said, "Let's be happy now." So they ate dinner and talked for a long time. Then they went to bed. In the morning, the father looked 6. "I am sick. I need 7." But it did not work. The father died and went up to the sky.

That day, the son sat outside. He had a problem, but he could not solve it. He looked at the sky. Then he saw something. "Father!" the son 8. A white, fluffy cloud came down. It was his father! He fixed his son's problem. Then he went away.

C. 閱讀測驗： Reading Comprehension. Read each passage and answer the following questions.

The Worm Written by : Ralph Bergengren

When the Earth is turned in spring

The worms are fat as anything.

And birds come flying all around

To eat the worms right off the ground.

They like worms just as much as I

Like bread and milk and apple pie.

And once, when I was very young,

I put a worm right on my tongue.

I didn't like the taste a bit,

And so I didn't swallow it.

But oh, it makes my Mother squirm

Because she thinks I ate that worm!

C-3. Bees live in a house that is called a hive. There are three kinds of bees: workers, drones, and queens. Only one queen bee can live in each hive. If she is lost or dead, the other bees will stop their work. Bees are very smart and busy. They all work together to build rooms for their honey. Each bee has its job and does its own work. Some bees go out to get honey from the flowers; others stay at home and work inside the hive.

The rooms bees build are called cells. All the cells look the same. They are not round. They have six sides.

Did you ever look into a glass hive to see the bees work? It is interesting to see how busy they always are.

It is not safe for children to handle bees. Bees have stingers. When they are in danger, they use their stingers to hurt others.

13. What is a hive?

- A. Bee's food. B. Bee's house. C. Bee's wings. D. Bee's job.

- A. They have stingers. B. They are poisonous. C. They are strong. D. They eat other animals.

C-4 We humans are used to thinking that our minds separate us from other animals. But new studies show that animals are quite intelligent and sensitive.

Animal's intelligence isn't found only in mammals. It can be found in other animals, such as birds. Although we sometimes call people "birdbrains" as an insult, our feathered friends can be very smart. Some can solve puzzles. For example, ravens can untie knots. Some birds can use tools. Some crows, for example, use twigs as spears. Some birds can even use our language. An African Grey parrot named Alex does more than just imitate human sounds. This parrot can name dozens of objects. It also seems to understand the ideas of "same," "different," and "amount."

Animals are able to feel emotion, too. This ability can be as painful for them as it is for humans. For example, some baboons live in groups where the leaders control through fear. Low-ranking baboons can live in a constant state of stress. This stress can cause health problems, just as it does in humans.

Some animals feel sadness when a family member dies. Elephants show interest even in decades-old elephant bones. Like humans, they are connected to each other in many ways.

18. What would be a good title for the passage?

- A. The Human Mind of Birds B. Stress as a Health Problem for Birds
C. Humans and Animals Share Similar Intelligence D. African Grey Parrots Are Sensitive Too

19. What information in the text supports the idea that birds are smart?

- A. Birds show interest and live in constant stress.
B. Birds create their own language and use twigs as pens.
C. Some birds use tools and imitate human sounds.
D. Birds have large brains and feel stress.

20. What can you know about baboon groups after reading the passage?

- A. Baboons are different from monkeys. B. Baboons fight all the time.
C. Baboons are a lot like birds. D. Baboons feel emotion like humans.
